I write epic and inspiring stories and design games as my passion and my work.
I am proud to be the creator the 1st ever African-Fantasy PC game in history.
We started in our university bedroom with a crazy idea in 2003, and 20 years of "breaking wall" later, we have built one of the 1st ever cross - media universe designed in Africa:
- A saga across 10K years of deep storyline.
- 1 PC game released (on its way to Xbox).
- 1 Mobile game awarded by Apple for quality.
- One of the 1st advanced technology to monetize games in Africa.
- 9 volumes of graphic novels released on Amazon (2K sales).
- Early discussion for animations and movies based on our universe.

We have built our traction for execution, proving that "Yes, a full African team can make it".
Today we are raising funds to go the next level and make our 1st global hit. We are ready.
